Website DesignEaktue is a website design, search engine optimization, website marketing and graphic design company, that focuses on helping people who want to grow their businesses utilizing the internet. Our team of experts will handle any or all of your website design and deployment needs so you can focus on your business.

Website design:

Our journey with you will begin by assessing your needs on the net.

- Who is your intended audience
- What are they looking for on the net and from your service
- What functionality requirements are needed to make your website exactly what you desire
- What Design elements reflect who you are and what you want your client to experience
- What involvement would you like to have in adding content to the site once it is complete

With this assessment done we will provide you with A project sheet outlining your new website's design and implementation steps:

- Sample website designs for you to choose fromAnalysis of your business’s keywords on the net including search volume and niche opportunities
- Requirements both from graphics and programming we will need to implement to effectively achieve your website design and search engine optimization goals
- A financial quote including payment structure and available cost savings measures which can be eliminated

Once the initial payment has been received website design will begin. During this phase we will give you access to view the development of your new website as it evolves. Generally the process will be as follows:

- Propose the final website design and get your approval on the "look and feel" until we have designed exactly the site you envisioned.
- Begin programming the site including the overall HTML structure, adding any dynamic elements needed and developing any interactive functionality like user forms, Ecommerce elements etc.
- Give you a test run through the site with temporary content to see how a user would experience your site and then revise the functionality to better serve your clients with their needs in getting your product or service.
- With the functionality locked in we will then add all content, text, graphics, video and links to your site until the finished product is available on our testing platform.
- You will then be asked to test drive the site once again to locate any changes in text or presentation needed to deliver the best user experience to your clients we can offer.
- With any changes made and you pleased with your new website design we will then upload the site to your final hosting server and run extensive testing to guarantee every aspect of the site is functioning soundly and effectively.
- With everything working correctly and you pleased with your new website we will "through you the keys" with a write up of what your next steps would be and how you contact us if we are needed. If you have chosen our extended search engine placement option we will then begin this stage of the development.
